

COMMENTARY ON UNITARIAN WOMANQUEST CONFERENCE
LAKE GENEVA, WISCONSIN, APRIL 20-25, 1990

Fred Bernard Wood

Abstract

This meeting was announced as "The 1990 Womanquest Convocation will be a continent-wide gathering of UU Women to plan, by consensus, an agenda for the 21st century." (Announcement attached).

Rev. Lindi Ramsden reported on the meeting, listing four messages regarding UU women's organizational structure, and eight points on implimenting the ideas. (Report enclosed). The eighth point was: "We ask all women working with women's programming to embody the visions of Womenquest. These visions are: 1) Eco-Feminism, 2) Spirituality, 3) Commitment to Diversity, 4) Economic Justice, 5) Valuing all Children, 6) Bridging Generations."

I observe that the patriarchial-hierarchial social structure we now have allows women to regain one percent of their ideal social power per century. If women learn to use business system decision theory to impliment their plans for visions 1) through 6) above they could raise the speed of social change from one percent to fifty percent per century. Specific hypotheses have to be researched and implimented to carry out visions 1) through 6):

- 1) Eco-Feminism: Gaia Hypotheses on how Biosphere insures that life continues for hundreds of thousands of years on planet Earth.
Shared Coevolution with the Biosphere.
and
Each individual woman must develop three types of consciousness:

Individual) Triple Pentagon
Social	> (includes Part-Geophysical) nership Way)
- 2) Spirituality Akasha Hypothesis. (Akasha is Sanscrit word for "fundamental etheric substance of the universe.")
- 3) Commitment to Diversity: Principle of Maximizing Negentropy.
Appreciation of sex-behavior diversity:

Heterosexual	90%
Homosexual	10%
Strangesex	0.1% (These people may be messengers of important concepts on the survival of civilization. Example: Queen Phyllis and Aristotle approx. 340 B.C.)
- 4) Economic Justice: Both Marxist-Communist Philosophy and Western-Capitalist Theory need updating

- to adjust to modern discoveries in physical science and anthropology. Carbon-Dioxide Budgets and Soil Nutrition Thesis on Glaciation. Longrief Hypothesis needs to be evaluated. (Grief of overthrow of pre-technology equalitarian societies and goddesses by Kurgans.)
- 5) Valuing All Children: Groups encompassing three generations. Use of sociological-therapy to find and react to grief generated by men and passed on from great-grandmother to grandmother to mother to child.
- 6) Bridging Generations:
